May 2011

What is that big yellow thing in the sky? WOW, it's about time we had a few good days of sunshine! Here's hoping that May turns into a nice, warm month that will hold up for lots of riding and eventing!

For only the second time in probably twenty-five years we had to cancel a Horse Trials at MREC. The event that was on April 30th and May 1st was cancelled due to lack of entries and wet weather. Our next event is June 4th and 5th so please get your entries in

This month is very busy. We are now getting ready for the MREC Mother Day Classic Hunter Jumper next weekend, on May 6th, 7th, and 8th, with the warm-up day being Thursday May 5th. Entries are looking good. We have some great championship prizes and two $500.00 Mini Prix classes. One Mini Prix at .85 meters and one at 1.00 meters.

On May 14th and 15th is the early. The entries close on May 29th.

At our last Hunter Jumper Show entries where up by almost 25% from the April Season Opener last year. The weather was great for the warm up day and the first two days of the show but unfortunately rained the Sunday.

On April 17th we had a very busy Hunter Jumper Schooling Show with over 90 Hunter rounds and the same for the Jumpers. A good time was had by all. The next schooling Show is May 22nd.

Pony Club Jumping Championships, which is always very exciting and busy.

The Schooling Hunter Jumper Show is on May 22nd and on May 28th is the Pony Club Show.

For more upcoming dates and events that will be happening at MREC please go our website at www.mrec.ca and check the calendar.
